DISCOVERY OF IRON DEPOSITS.
Saddle Lake, May 1.—Rich deposits of iron have been discovered by Messrs. McAdam and Grogan at Little Vermilion Creek, eighteen miles west of here, on the north side of the Saskatchewan. Owing to the ground being frozen their investigations so far have been very limited, but tests at various points over a large area, disclose veins ranging from six to twelve feet thick.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN NEWS.

Fort Saskatchewan, April 30th.
Frasier and Green, late of the Hudson's Bay company, intend opening out here in the general store business. They expect to start for the present in the building now used by F. W. Langworthy.

The roads are in better shape than they were at this time last year. Immigrants are passing through here in large numbers.

The youngest child of Sven Hansson died this week at the home of Mr. McAllister, of Good Hope.

The first meeting of the Egmont League society was held in the Methodist church Wednesday evening. About thirty-five persons were present.

Professor Jones is advertising a concert on May 25th in the Methodist church. His singing class pupils will take part in the program.

Wanted.—A first class ferry and first class weather, the two are expected to arrive.

The Fort Saskatchewan Reporter will make its bow to the public next week.

Ed. Summers has started a daily bus to and from Edmonton. He will, no doubt have plenty of work.

Mr. Schuttschneider, of Bruderheim, was in town yesterday.

Lumber is a scarce article here and buildings can hardly be completed.

D. Summers has commenced his new residence on Dean avenue.

Mullett's new hardware store for Chambers & Co. is about ready for occupation.

F. W. Langworthy will shortly occupy his new store.

The first snow load that has come down the river this spring arrived here this evening for Wilson & Co.

Pacific Cable Troubles.

Ottawa, April 27.—Owing to the high rates in force, not a single press message has so far passed over the Pacific cable, although the desirability of opening clear communication by wire between the two continents must be apparent to all.

With a view to securing daily press service between Australia and Dominion of Canada the ministers recommended to the cable board in London that as an experiment press messages of five hundred words be permitted to pass free for three months. The Dominion asked Australia and New Zealand to join this request, but Premier Barton, of the Commonwealth, sent a reply in the following terms, which caused considerable disappointment here, "Our postal and telegraph rates set probably preclude us from joining in your request for free press messages. Besides such a step would be immediately met by similar action by the Eastern Extension Telegraph Company."

This means that Barton will not join in the request. It is understood that New Zealand will endorse Canada's proposal, as possibly free press messages may be allowed to pass anyway.

That news with the board in London. Those who have taken an interest in laying the Pacific cable are disappointed with the results of its operations. It was buried for years by the Eastern Extension Telegraph Co. the powerful communication already offering cable communication between Australia and the United Kingdom, and now that the line is completed the management seems to be in the hands of men of little sympathy with the project.

Australia has created the Eastern Extension Company right to use its government offices all over the Commonwealth in securing business and this is going to still further injure the prospects of the Pacific cable.

EDMONTON LAND OFFICE.

At the Edmonton Land Office during April, 1901, 198 homestead entries representing 36,000 acres of land were made. In April, 1902, there were 321 entries representing 51,400 acres and in April, 1903, there was a grand total of 465 homestead entries representing 74,000 acres of land.

LOCAL.

—District engineer Driscoll is surveying the Great property.

—Professor C. A. Heath will sing next Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church.

—Four hundred and sixty-five applications for homesteads were made at the Edmonton land office during the month of April.

—Owing to a break down in the telegraph line east of Calgary the usual press despatches could not be obtained this morning.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Aid Society of the Public Hospital will be held in the council chamber on Monday next at the usual hour.

—Mr. Chas. McI. McDonald, recently arrived from Glasgow, Scotland, has taken over the Alberta Steam Laundry and will commence business Monday, May 4th.

—A special meeting of the Board of Trade will be held tomorrow morning at ten o'clock in the Town Hall to consider means of relieving the sufferers of the Frank disaster.

—Miss F. E. Henry, an I.O.M. of Toronto Conservatory of Music and pupil of H. M. Field, Leipzig Conservatory, Germany, is preparing to open a studio in the McLeod block.

—Rev. Father Platonius Filias, Greek Catholic missionary of Beaver Lake, was appointed by His Grace the pope, bishop of Stanislau diocese and will leave in a short time for Galicia.

—Rev. Father Laganiere, O.M.I., immigration agent for Edmonton district, is in town. He will remain for a few weeks inspecting localities for the settlement of French Canadian communities.

—In one week 17,282 letters, 1,585 post cards and 2,000 cards were posted in the Calgary post office. The revenue of the office for this week was $20,000 per cent.

—Several excellent half tone engravings of local scenes appear in the last issue of the Farmers Advocate. Among others are a panoramic view of Edmonton, an extensive scene in the Saskatchewan valley eighteen miles from Edmonton.

—The Edmonton General Hospital received through Mr. W. J. Reid, secretary, the sum of $15.50, donation from Oldfellows, members of Strathcona and Edmonton lodges, and also donations from Messrs. Larue and H. Dawson. Success thanks to all.

—The Casino Comedy company showed in Robertson's hall last night. The hall was fairly well filled, but the show put on was a disgrace to an intelligent community. The concertist alone was exceedingly good. The trapeze act was more suitable for an out of doors first of July celebration.

—Calgary Herald, April 29.—Yesterday St. Mary's Church was given over to the marriage of Dr. Blais, of Edmonton, to Miss Melrose, of Quebec. The groom was helped through the ordeal by Dr. Bonneau, and the bride was given away by Mr. P. Paradis. After the ceremony the bride and groom were entertained with few intimate friends at the residence of Mr. Paradis, and this morning left to spend their honeymoon at Banff.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Edmonton city council was held in the council chamber Wednesday night commencing at 8:30 o'clock. All the members of the council were present viz. Cuyling, Gallagher, Grierson, Ross, Fraser, Heimick and His Worship, Mayor Short.

The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read and adopted on motion of Coun. Grierson and Fraser.

The first business taken up was the ratifying of the appointment of T. G. Launder as building and fire inspector and street foreman at a salary of $75 a month.

Mr. John A. Graham addressed the council with reference to the lots which he wished to procure from the town. He offered $400 in addition to two lots for two lots belonging to the town across the street. The matter was left in the hands of Coun. Gallagher and Grierson to investigate and report.

Four applications for city police were presented but were laid over for the present.

A letter was read from O. W. Sullivan asking that 2,000 copies of "Questions and Answers" as issued by A. G. Harrison, Land office, for free distribution be printed. The council thought that the present supply of immigration literature would be sufficient.

J. C. F. Bown, on behalf of J. B. Lathrop put in a claim for damages against the town for breakage to his rig and injury to the horse caused by a defective crossing on Jasper Avenue near Sixth street. On motion of Coun. Fraser and Gallagher the matter was referred to city engineer Armstrong for investigation and report.

A heated discussion followed concerning the city police, brought about by their application for an increase of salary to $15 a month. Coun. Heimick took occasion to oppose this increase most emphatically and at the same time made several extravagant charges against them for the way in which they attended to their duties. Mayor Short protested against Coun.

The Building Boom

is now on and the demand for lumber is very keen. If you want to get materials on the ground in time for your building you had better order from us at once. The undecided man puts things off. He always waits until tomorrow so he can change his mind. Then he waits until the next day so he can change it back again. In the meantime, lumber gets scarce, prices go up and he blames the lumber companies. Alberta lumber is scarce now, but we are shipping in B.C. lumber as fast as we can get it, at the rate of a car a day, and we can take care of your order if you give us a chance.

FLYTIME is now here and the flies are always present. Better place your orders at once for screen doors and windows. It is much easier to keep out the flies than to drive them out when they get in.

BARR COLONISTS

The coming of the Barr colonists to Western Canada has been one of the leading topics among Canadian newspapers for the past few months. The last issue of the Saskatchewan Phoenix contains a long article on the Barr colony as they landed in Saskatchewan preparatory to their overland trip to the site of the colony. The following are extracts taken from the article in question.

"The many different accents of the colonists were quite plain to the ear. The Yorkshire burr was in strong evidence, and to those who were the least familiar it was easy to distinguish the Londoner from the Devonshire man and so on, as nearly every county in England was represented. Scotland and the Emerald Isle were scarcely in it, but there was a small sprinkling of both moving around.

In the bustle to get settled down, getting fire going, etc., one could see there was a strange military element about. The quick was broken were dug and fires started in such a manner that there was no waste and every scrap of heat did its duty, showing beyond a doubt that the hands that built them had done the same thing on the South African veldt, or in other lands where British soldiers had been called upon to uphold the honor of the old flag. In the evening and chopping of wood some of the city men were a source of amusement to many of our experienced men. The way the axe was handled in some cases suggested danger either to the chopper or those near him, and in one case two were busy working a buck saw as if it were a regular cross cut.

Many of this party made numerous complaints about the lack of accommodation, facilities, etc., on board ship, but from the time they struck Canadian soil they had nothing but the highest praise for the Government and C.P.R. officials, whom they state could not have been more attentive in any way. They speak very highly of Mr. Smith, of the Immigration Department, at Winnipeg, and many of them hoped to see him here.

Saskatoon was on the quiver on Friday morning last, and each evening particularly, notice of the weather, which looked in the early hours as if a good rain storm was not far away. This happily did not occur, and instead the sun shone out in the good old way. It has a knack of doing in this North-West of ours. The reason for this anxiety was that the main body of the Barr colonists was expected, and they finally came. At 11 a.m. the foot of the double leaders was heard, and immediately from all sides there was a wild rush for the Canadian Pacific depot. The platforms had been roped in and no one was allowed to pass, unless those who had a right to do so, so box cars and all other points of vantage were quickly taken possession of. After the usual delay at the bridge, uncoupling the extra engine, the train pulled in with a few extra loads and a good heavy client from the Saskatchewan. The train consisted of 14 coaches, and one box car, and had 510 of the party on board. After a very short delay they commenced to leave the cars and without waiting to see the regular exit, they shot their baggage through the windows and in a great many cases the owner came the same way. Then came the opportunity to the critics and they certainly used it, but did not abuse it, for in each and every case the verdict was: "They're all right." The ladies, too, were much admired, and made not a few of the boys wish they were going on with the colony.

There is no doubt there is a considerable number of the party, who to use a common expression, are "well fixed," but there is a very large number who require to be "hooked every cent." To these people the fact of having to wait here in idleness for any length of time is a serious problem, and one which they were not prepared to face. They were informed, they claim, that there would be plenty of work immediately upon their arrival, constructing railways, etc. This they are all ready for. In fact, one of their first enquiries when getting off the train was: "What are the prospects for work?" We hope and trust they may find plenty of it.

The fourth and last contingent of the Barr colonists arrived at 6 o'clock Saturday morning and in twelve coaches brought 517 persons, also two cars of effects. About nine o'clock they began to emerge from the cars and the matter of the tents being arranged for the present, each man shouldered his own and soon the ground was literally covered with them, a number of them preferring to camp close to the track rather than go further away. These people drew their supplies from the town and found prices quite as moderate as in the company's store on the grounds.

The men are all hardy fellows, who, if they have not done hard and heavy work, have yet plenty of muscle, the results of gymnasium exercise, etc. They have mechanics of all classes among them and soldiers who are used to roughing it, and at least one man-of-warman, who has still three years to serve on the reserve before he can call himself free. He will have quite a distance to go should the call to arms sound during the time.

Taken all through the Barr colonists are the very best, and will be a credit to the old land, as well as to Canada, and are just the sort of settlers needed to develop the great Canadian North-West.

On Sunday morning the camp was astir at an early hour. By six o'clock figures could be seen flitting around the fires getting breakfast, and the good things of this world were not conspicuous by their absence either. At eleven o'clock divine service was held in the large tent. The audience was, of course, large. The singing, led by a pianette, violin, etc., was hearty and good. The sermon, or as the speaker called it, a few words of encouragement, was given by the Very Reverend Archbishop McKay, D.D., who took for his text the words: "The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them; and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose."

Rev. Mr. Lloyd spoke at the evening service at which a great number were present. Mr. Lloyd is a fine speaker and possesses a stock that commands attention. The words of his text were: "Then gather the people together." The speaker dealt with Moses and the journey of the Israelites. He said they, like the Israelites, had crossed the Jordan and were now within sight of the promised land. One of their first duties when they got there should be to arrange for places where they could gather themselves together and obey the Master's command.

There were stirring scenes in the camp on Sunday afternoon. Some matters connected with the luggage had stirred up a very strong feeling. The blankets and water proof sheets seemed hard to find. Threats were made to raid the cars. But matters finally quieted down and all evening, and through the night, with a fresh gang of men, the work of unloading the 5,000 pieces, of which the baggage consists, was continued, and another large marquee had to be put up to hold it.

Kenneth Macdonald Flats

The Finest Alluvial Soil on Earth.

On each Lot enough may be grown to support a family.

The property adjoins Little's brick yard on the South, the Experimental Farm on the North and overlooks the Saskatchewan on the East.

The opposite bank of the river, rising in natural terraces from the water's edge to an average height of 150 feet, beautifully wooded, affords A PANORAMA OF HARMONY AND DELIGHT.

Edmonton has passed the experimental stage, and will possess in a few years a metropolitan population.

The Railway Question is settled. The Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk and Canadian Northern are assured quantities.

A fact not generally known substantiates that Edmonton will be a terminus for some years, is that the carrying capacity of the Canadian Pacific exceeds the Oriental and British Columbian trades combined, and the three great roads mentioned will halt before pushing on to the Pacific, thereby making our city of vastly more importance than it would otherwise have been.

Much of the timber is primeval. The principal streets will be boulevarded, and ancient growth furnish overshade.

Maps and schedules of prices open for inspection at W. H. Hooper Company's Office on May 4, 1903.

History of the German Immigration into the Edmonton District

Continued.

In the year 1889 through the assistance of the Immigration Department a number of German families came to Manitoba, which had already had some flourishing German settlements, and these new arrivals homesteaded in the Medicine Head district, somewhere near Dinmore. They went to work with a will, putting up buildings, fencing, etc., and putting in a crop. But the crop failed, because there happened to be a series of exceptionally dry years and for want of rain the crops withered. Nothing daunted and crops failed, the next year they went to work again preparing and seeding the soil. The next year was not only not better, but even worse and the country was simply parched. What few cattle these new settlers had did not prosper, but suffered severely for lack of water, and the seed in the fields barely sprouted and then dried up, after making a feeble attempt at growing. There was absolutely no harvest and the settlers, who by this time had completely used up what little resources they might have had, faced bitterly hard times. People have to eat, and so whatever cattle or horses they yet possessed had to go to dry food, or to be turned into food literally, and poor form the start, they were utterly ruined by two years of successive failures of their harvest.

The poor Germans indeed faced an enigma. Money, they had none, of cattle or other valuables hardly anything was left, and ignorant of language or knowledge of the country, they did not know what to do or where to turn. In this their extremity, a friend, an English settler who had lived among them and had come to like these industrious and honest folks, wrote them a letter in which he advised them to leave Dinmore and follow him. The drought had driven him away from the Medicine Head district the year before and he had come to Edmonton, where he found the soil, climate and opportunities far superior to the place he had left.

I have been told by some of the German old-timers in Stoney Plains, that it was Mr. John Kennedy, now living on the Sturgeon settlement, who wrote that letter and gave the impetus to the first German immigration into this district. Anyways, whoever that kind letter writer was, he and the Germans of Dinmore loved and trusted him, and he had come to Edmonton, where he found the soil, climate and opportunities far superior to the place he had left.

English speaking friend into the Edmonton district.

The railroad was then finished and in operation as far as Red Deer and up to this station the government informed of their straits, gave them a free ride using for the purpose all the available cattle and freight cars on hand. From Red Deer they went along as best they could, a weary, caravan-like, veritable Children of Israel, on their march into the promised land. The women and children riding in the few ox carts they had, the men trudging behind on foot. And in this condition they finally arrived in Edmonton in the fall of 1891. Edmonton was not in those days what it is now and the arrival of these immigrants, about eighty families in all, was a nine days' wonder. And indeed they were in an odd-looking crowd. Some men and women arrived barefooted, because they had no boots and their poverty often forced them to curiously makeshift. Women wore their husbands' coats and the children their mothers' dresses, but, though the condition of these new arrivals was miserable enough, they had brave hearts and had hope and confidence in God, in the land, and their own will to succeed, and today shows that their trust was not misplaced.

To Be Continued.

ROSS ROBERT
The snow that fell yesterday is all gone today.

Cases have been seen almost every day since the first of the month, and ducks are now seen in large numbers. D. and Mrs. Sinclair, who came to this settlement some weeks ago, are apprehended by all. The doctor has been attending patients here and at Northern who are now doing well. Mrs. Sinclair is teacher in this district and is giving satisfaction. The doctor has tied on a quarter section of land. We hope they will stay with us.

The postmaster has resigned as he finds that the government salary of $10.75 per annum is not profitable.

Stock are doing well considering the unusually cold winter. New grass is beginning to show.

Business is rushing at St. Albans. Twenty customers in less than an hour.

Whallan & Co.'s sawmill was moved out last week. They sawed about 60,000 feet of lumber at Grassy Lake.

Roberts & Wilton have moved their mill across the hills, where they have a large amount of sawing to do.

Mr. Macquarrie's work will be in the field at St. Albans, together with Winnipeg College will fill his place at Ross Creek.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Heiminek's attitude and said that there was no better behaved town in the N.W.T. than Edmonton and that the charges made were most willfully untrue. He refused Coun. Heiminek permission to reply, saying that any charges of neglect of duty were to be laid to the chairman of the committee. Coun. Ross, Gallagher, Fraser, Grieson and Cushing all expressed themselves in favor of the increase and the motion was put and carried, Coun. Heiminek only protesting.

Applications were read for permission to build contrary to the provisions of the fire by-law, on account of security of brick. These were laid over pending the discussion of the by-law.

A telegram from F. Oliver, M.P., asking if the city cared to transfer their street railway charter to a strong eastern company, was read, said company to construct radial lines and to commence work immediately. A letter was forwarded to Mr. Oliver, mentioning with thanks, his solicitations in the town's behalf and stating that it was considered advisable to retain their railway franchise.

A letter from Jas. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, to F. Oliver, M.P., was read, which stated that he would give his immediate attention to the matter of Courthouse and Post-office sites.

Mason and Allan wrote the council with regard to railway matters. The letters were filed.

Mr. Hobson presented a bill against the town for $30 for the use of certain dredging tools. The matter was placed in the hands of Engineer Armstrong.

The urgent need of a sidewalk down the Bellamy hill to station and on to the exhibition grounds, was fully discussed and referred to Engineer Armstrong.

By-law 242 was the next item of business. Councillors Ross, Gallagher, and Grieson thought the by-law should stand. Councillors Cushing and Fraser preferred having its enforcement postponed for six months, and Councillor Heiminek wished to have it rescinded immediately. After a long discussion the following amendments were suggested. For three months the erection of frame and metal sheeted buildings will be allowed within the fire limits, provided that the owner of the building will build according to the provisions within three months and have it completed within four months of May 1st. All agreed to this but Coun. Heiminek.

Resident engineer Ashbridge reported on the extension of the sewerage system to take in a portion of the Hudson's Bay reserve.

Petitions were read asking for a 6 foot sidewalk on the west side of Fraser avenue between Sixth and Eleventh streets and on the west side of Block four, River lot ten. These petitions were granted.

City Engineer Armstrong reported on the condition of the open ditch in the west end. Lots owned by Messrs. Taylor and Stephen, which benefitted by the ditch were charged three per cent and two per cent, respectively which reduced the charge on Mr. McKay's property. The matter was referred back to the engineer to consult with the Resident Engineer Ashbridge.

The application to city park in the west end was fully discussed. A difference of opinion existed in the council regarding the transfer and it was finally agreed to postpone its discussion at present to enable the councillors to look over the proposed site, which they will do Saturday afternoon. Coun. Heiminek objected to the park and stated that it should be on the Hudson's Bay reserve. In this connection the Rowland estate of forty acres was also offered the council at $125 per acre.

Mr. McKernan reported that he was losing money on the coal contract. The matter was laid over for investigation. The question of building a railing along the Ross grade was left in the hands of Engineer Armstrong. The appointment of T. G. Lavender as street foreman, etc., was approved of.

Readers for the laying of house connections from the waterworks system were read from R. H. Whitman, Dobson Jackson and Fry, and from Jas. B. Twiss. They were referred to the engineer.

The by-law dealing with the tariff of water rates was given its first and second readings.

Provision was made for the immediate payment by cash of urgent bills. The meeting adjourned at midnight.
